A New Novel By Robert Stead

The Canadian public have learned to look forward to a new novel by Robert Stead. "The Homesteaders" and "The Cow Puncher" created for this Canadian author a host of friends who are always interested in his new productions.

Mr. Stead's new novel, "Dennison Grant" [$1.75], just published by the Musson Book Company, Limited, Toronto, is in many respects his most mature literary offering. Like his other novels, its action centres largely in the West, but there is also a distinctly Eastern aspect to "Dennison Grant" and its appeal is as broad as the sympathies of red-blooded men and women.

Dennison Grant, the principal character in the story, is a wealthy young Easterner who, disinherited by his father on account of his radical notions about money, finds happiness and love on an Alberta ranch. Fate, however, insists upon making him a millionaire, and brings him back to the East as manager of a successful business. But his heart remains in the West, and more particularly in the keeping of Zen of the Y. D., a rancher's daughter who marries a contractor in a moment of weakness and against her better judgement. Of course Denny and Zen meet again, and there fortunes sway back and forth through a dozen thrilling chapters. There is much more in "Dennison Grant" which cannot be outlined here, but which the reader will enjoy for himself. It is undoubtedly the big novel of the season.

We wish a few more of those people who "Can't stand Mr. W's sermons" or who think "The sermons are too long" etc. etc., ad lib. had been at St. Laurence Church last Sunday evening. The Rev. Wickenden preached a very inspiring sermon from the text "He that is not for Me, is against Me, and he that gathereth not, scattereth"

M.H.O. IS NEEDED

Several complaints are being heard in various quarters with reference to the state of the back-yards of some of our residents. We think the time is ripe for the appointment of a Medical Health Officer for the Village. With the appointment of a M. H. O. the danger of an epidemic of Typhoid, Measles and similar maladies is practically nullified. It is the duty of a M. H. O. to personally inspect the places complained of (and all others too) and to give instructions that all refuse, slops etc., be disposed of as he designates. The Village is growing. We are out of the baby stage and it is high time that more serious thought was given to such serious matters.

Local Happenings

We take pleasure in announcing to our readers, that on Saturday, Dec. 4th The Canadian Juveniles, a company that have received the highest press notices in the country, will play here in the Big Hall. This company of youngsters is the same company that played before H. R. H. The Prince of Wales, during his recent visit to this country, and it is safe to say that never before has such a company of artistes appeared before the public in this mans town. The programme consists in the main, of singing and dancing—a wealth of good fun. Come on out.

Big Time Coming

We have it on the best authority that some time in January next, there is going to be SOME dance held here in the Big Hall. It is going to be a Masquerade Ball, and we understand that there is going to be prizes offered that will make every one desirous of winning them. The date has not been definitely settled yet, but at any rate it will be well for those who are contemplating wearing costumes, to start getting them ready. Watch The News for further announcements.

D. Martin has bought the lot and buildings formerly owned by J. Worobo. He has been busy this week moving the buildings, and getting them ready for occupancy

These are the days when the men-folk are busy elevating elevating stove-pipes and arranging heaters. Intentionally (perhaps) turning the air blue because the pipes wont fit. They should also be the days when Insurance should be taken out on the contents of your home. For prompt satisfaction in this matter, see Warner at the News Office.

Some Hand

Quite a number from town attended the basket social at Hillmavale last week. A very jolly time is reported. The party journeyed thereto and back in a hay-rack. But it was on the return journey that the best time of all was had (that is according to Mr. Barnhill of the local Bank staff.)—Yes sir, ole. Barndoor had a strangle-hold on somebodys hand—it wasnt a mans either—but it wasnt until the rig was almost into town that he found he had hold of the wrong persons hand. Oh! what a fall was there, my countrymen.

Victorian Serenaders Make Good Here

Although only an average crowd attended the concert given by the Victorian Serenaders on Saturday last, this in no way affected the delightful programme. The music rendered was of the best, and although the singers at some times lacked the full tone one would expect, yet the clever work of the instrumentalists covered this to a certain degree. Perhaps by far the best items on the programme, were the elocution selections given by Miss Larcher. Miss Larcher has a full contralto voice with perfect control, and delighted her hearers with her clever renditions

Many Attend First Service in Union Church

The finishing touches on the interior of the new Union Church of Monitor were made on Saturday last and the building was opened for service on Sunday evening. In spite of the fact that the commencement of services was not publicly announced (because of the uncertainty of having the work completed in time) there was a congregation present of over forty persons.

The building was brilliantly lighted and an encouraging spirit of devotional worship prevailed. The singing was bright and congregational and the entire atmosphere of the meeting promised good times to come. Now that the building is completed regular religious services will be held every Lords Day evening at the hour of 7 o'clock P. M. Please remember the time of service, the place of worship, and the hearty welcome that will await you. There is room for everyone and a message for all.

Forms and Functions of Governments in Canada

Under a democratic form of government it is of the utmost importance that the masses of the people who constitute the democracy have a clear grasp and an intelligent understanding of the machinery and functions of government, and this is especially true in countries like Canada where the powers, responsibilities and functions of government are divided as between Federal, Provincial and municipal legislative and administrative bodies.

Important as it has always been that people should have an understanding of the political conditions under which they live and are governed, it is perhaps even more important today than at any previous period in history. In these times, when it would be both idle and foolish to deny that a spirit of unrest prevails, changes in the existing forms of government are being advocated in many quarters. Utopian but utterly impracticable ideas are advanced by some organizations; others urge a complete revolution along lines advocated by adherents of the One Big Union; some would have the Soviet system of Russia introduced; the cry of "self determination" is raised, although it is not made very clear what calls for determination; and, in general, there is a re-grouping and re-alignment of the masses of the people in regard to matter political.

Because of these conditions, it is more important than ever before that there should be a clear understanding of the present system, methods and functions of government in Canada which these several bodies of opinion would alter, change, and, in some instances, absolutely destroy if they had their way.

It is unquestionably true that in these Western Provinces, where such a large percentage of the people have come from other lands where conditions and forms of government are quite different, much confusion exists as to the different spheres of government vested in the Federal Parliament at Ottawa and in the Legislative Assemblies of the various Provinces. Because of this, it has been suggested that a series of articles of a purely educational character dealing with government in Canada would be both valuable and timely.

For example, the newcomer, whether from the United States or some European country, finds it exceedingly difficult to understand the relation which exists between the British Crown and Governments in Canada. The immigrant from Europe, familiar with the old autocratic monarchical government in his native land, entertains the idea that somewhat similar conditions prevail in Canada, possibly even worse; and that Canada, as a possession of the British Crown, is ruled by governors appointed overseas. Incoming settlers from the United States, in many instances, have a vague and hazy notion that in Canada people do not enjoy the same liberties and principles of democratic responsible government prevailing across the line—that, because we are subjects of King George V., we do not enjoy complete independence of action, and many believe that Canada has to pay tribute or taxes to England.

The very fact that all legislation is enacted in the name of the King, that the Government is spoken of as the King's Government, and that the Royal Assent is required to all legislation passed before it becomes law, leads to a belief in many quarters that Canadians do not enjoy all the rights of self-government and as full exercise of all liberties as do the people of the United States or any other country.

As a matter of fact, King George V. exercises far less power in Canada than the President does in the United States. The King in England, or his representative, the Governor-General in Canada, or any of the Provincial Lieutenant-Governors, have the power to dismiss their ministers from office. But the President of the United States has the same power. In the United States, however, the people have no remedy except to elect a new President when the next election comes round, but that time long or short. In Canada, the people must be consulted in a general election immediately, and, if their verdict is in favor of the dismissed ministers, the Governor-General, or the Lieutenant-Governor, as the case may be, is recalled from office.

The King, or his representative, is obliged to accept as his ministers and advisers those men who are shown to have the confidence of the people through their election to Parliament or Legislature, and who command the support of a majority of all the members in Parliament or Legislature. The moment a Ministry loses the support of such a majority of the people's elected representatives, it must resign and make way for a new Ministry possessing such support. In the United States, on the other hand, the President personally selects his own cabinet of ministers, men who may, or may not, be the choice of the people, and men who may not command the support of a majority in Congress.

The Crown is a common tie binding all parts of the British Empire together, but the Crown does not, and cannot, legislate of itself, impose taxes, or enforce laws. These things can only be done by the elected representatives of the people and the courts of law which those representatives in their wisdom create. In a word, in no country do the people enjoy wider liberties or greater freedom of action than in Canada, both Federally and Provincially.

Must Accept Price Level

$3 Wheat Is Too Much For World To Pay.

"The world has not the purchasing power to buy $3 wheat," E. G. Nourse, head of agricultural economics, Iowa State Agricultural College, said in an address before the Farmers' Bank of Eastern Iowa. He was discussing the farmers' strike and market conditions.

Deliberate marketing to keep pace with the fall of prices of things farmers must buy is a better remedy than the strike, Mr. Nourse said. Farmers must accept the general price level, but are now obliged to accept a like cut in the deflation process.

Love is seldom confessed until the evidence reaches the stage where making a confession is merely a matter of form.

To Eradicate Weeds

Weed Train Will Be Run Through Prairie Provinces.

Arrangements for the running of a "weed train" through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta for six weeks, commencing about the last week in January, were made by the Deputy Ministers of Agriculture of the three provinces, who met in Saskatoon recently. The train will be equipped with all of the necessary material to demonstrate the growth of the various weeds of the prairie provinces through their various stages, as well as the best means of eradicating them.

The train will be composed of two lecture cars, a demonstration car, and a sleeper and diner for the personnel. It will be manned by representatives of the Departments of Agriculture of the provinces concerned, their colleges of agriculture, and the rural municipal associations. A representative of each province will accompany the train throughout its entire trip, although in each province the lecturers will be chosen from that province. It is planned to cover with the train this year as many as possible of the points on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and next year to take up the Canadian National lines. There will be two meetings a day. Two weeks will be spent in each province.

Rural Depopulation

Claims Although Fewer People on the Land, Production Has Not Decreased.

Referring to the numerous discussions on the subject of rural depopulation, Sir John Willison, in discussing it at the Canadian Club, Toronto, said that though there were fewer people on the land today than there were a few years ago, general production had not decreased—it had been multiplied by machinery. The supposition that farming was less profitable under present conditions than formerly was not supported by the facts, Sir John said.

Governmental meddling in business only produced confusion. Sir John added, and public regulation of prices produced a scarcity in the products affected and ultimately increased prices. Instead of the luxury tax there should be a one per cent. tax all around 'on sales, in Sir John's opinion.

Sask. Farmers Own Insurance Co.

The Agricultural Insurance Company organized last spring by Saskatchewan farmers, and owned and operated entirely by them, is making rapid progress, and its experience up to the present has been most gratifying. At the last report the company had yet to receive its first claim for loss by fire, and the hail insurance business of the last season brought satisfactory results. The company has already over one thousand farmer shareholders, its purpose being to provide a means by which the farmers of Saskatchewan can do their own business with their own money.

Agricultural Grant.

Saskatchewan's share of the Dominion Government's grant under the Agricultural Instruction Act for the present fiscal year will be $81,728, the total grant for the nine provinces being $1,100,000. The grant will be devoted to every branch of agricultural education, including research and extension work, post-graduate courses as well as elementary agricultural teaching.

Big Game Being Protected

Alberta Taking Steps to Protect Bands of Antelope.

Alberta will have a new animal park if the present plans of the Dominion game authorities are carried out successfully. Steps are being taken to provide some measure of protection for bands of antelope now running wild in the Brooks and Lake Muir districts, and it is expected that they will soon be added to the list of big-life zoos which the Federal Government is maintaining in the province.

There are about one hundred and seventy-five animals in the lot, and it is proposed to construct strong fences in which to enclose and protect them.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Thousands of mothers state positively that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine they know of for little ones. Their experience has taught them that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them and that they can be given with perfect safety to children of all ages. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Therrien, St. Gabriel de Brandon, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. I thought I would lose my baby before trying the Tablets but they soon made him healthy and happy, and now I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fight For Natural Resources.

Hon. J. R. Boyle, attorney-general of Alberta, has prepared a case along similar lines to that of the provincial treasurer of Manitoba, but, strange to say, without any co-operation.

He is ready to launch a case in the courts to secure possession of the natural resources on behalf of the province of Alberta, and will institute such action, if the Dominion Government does not take action within a reasonable time.

Women of Canada Who Testify

Tillsonburg, Ont.—"Ever since I can remember, Dr. Pierce's medicine were used in our family at home and they never failed to give good results. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' was used as a tonic and blood purifier and for bronchial trouble, and it proved excellent. I have personally taken 'Golden Medical Discovery' for bronchial trouble, and the 'Favorite Prescription' to build me up when I was run-down and they both were very beneficial. Mother always used Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed for pain. It also was very good. I feel safe in recommending all of Dr. Pierce's medicines knowing them to be good."—MRS. CLIFFORD MITCHELL.

Central Butte, Sask.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery for a number of years and am pleased to recommend it as a blood purifier. I know it has no equal, as I used it for my boy for tuberculosis of the knee joint. My neighbors and friends were surprised with the results; in fact, I do not think he would be alive today had it not been for the 'Medical Discovery'. I can keep it on hand for coughs as it differs so from other cough medicines, instead of upsetting the stomach as most cough syrups do it is good for the stomach. I only wish I had known about Dr. Pierce's medicine sooner."—MRS. FERRY WOOD.

When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that his remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

"Mr. Smythe is great at 'leadin' people to the light," as he puts it," smiled the woman, wiping the pumpkin seeds off her hands against the side of the pan. "He's converted me to true Christianity. He learnt me that hymn, 'Cross the River of Jordan,' that I've just sung."

"Well, well," grinned Big Mac. "And I've give up smokin', too," confessed the widow. "It's been hard to do it, but Mr. Smythe says it's wrong for people, specially women, to smoke. I haven't had a smoke for several days, Daniel."

"God bless us," murmured McTavish, "is that so?"

"He picked up a sliver and broke it into small bits."

"You get quite a lot of comfort out of tobacco, I suppose?"

"No one knows how much," she sighed.

"Well, missus, maybe I'm wrong," declared McTavish, "but I tell you what I think. I don't believe I'd care to give up anythin' I had, and was sure of, for a chance of g-tin' what a man like Smythe gave me. I wouldn't get in ecstasies."

He laughed, and strode away across the cornfield. Widow Ross followed him with staring eyes.

"I wonder just what he means," she muttered. "My, but I wish I could have a little smoke right now."

CHAPTER XVII.

The Loggin'-Bee.

Loggin'-bees are not uncommon events among the Bushwhackers. But usually loggin'-bees were held after the winter snows had fallen, when with oxen and sleds the men moved the great logs to where they were wanted.

But, as Mrs. Declute explained it, this was "a sorter unusual loggin'"; it was "more of a raisin' than a loggin'"; all of which was quite true. Mrs. Declute had set her mind upon having a new cow-stable erected, one that would be tight and warm, "with no chinks to let in draft to the poor dumb critters." And, a first adverse to the idea, had reluctantly given in to having a bee, and bee it was to be.

Thursday morning dawned clear and bright, and with it came all the Bushwhackers, big and little in Bushwhackers' Place.

Buck and Bright, the champion ox-team, bedecked with a new yoke of white elm in honor of the occasion, were driven forth to the contest by their proud master, who cracked his whip in time to the rattle of the long chains, and commanded, "gee there, Buck; haw, Bright," in a voice that the Big McTavish had got through chaffing each other on the respective deficiencies of each other's team, three more span with their owners had arrived on the scene.

An hour later all throughout the nearby wood could be heard the "k-whack" of axes, and every now and again a great red world fall with a crash and a crash that seemed to jar the earth.

While the young men chopped down and trimmed the trees, the older ones laid out the foundation of the new building. So thoroughly was this done that Declute avowed in the hearing of his good wife, who naturally was close at hand to admonish and advise the architects, that he wouldn't be surprised but that he'd desert the house and live in the new cow-stable himself. Whereupon that good woman flashed a look of scorn upon him and jeeringly remarked: "A cow-stable is too good for a man what allars smells o' rat-musk an' can't take a skunk outin' a trap without gessin' up th' whole n-ighborhood." The little man hid his discomfort by suggesting that the men who claimed their oxen could haul two tons green timber "at a wallop" come along and prove it. Laughing, the men sought their patient cattle and proceeded with a chorus of "geers" and "haws" to haul the trimmed tree-trunks up to the clearing.

It was a great trial of strength and patience and endurance on the part of both team and driver, the hauling of those heavy logs across rough ground to the wide square marked off in the clearing. The young men left off trimming trees to watch the oxen pull. There was some excitement while the rival teams pitted their muscle against one another. The spans were very evenly matched, and it is likely the friendly contest would have ended in a draw had not a circumstance arisen to put McTavish's Buck and Bright away to the fore. A great basswood log had nosed itself deep into a bank of moss, where, held securely by root-tendrils, it refused to budge to the repeated tugs of Peeler's red oxen. Two other teams tried to break it out without success, and then Big McTavish, smiling broadly, declared that he would show them what a real span of oxen could do when they wanted to. Sure enough, Buck and Bright, after tremendous exertion, did break the log out, and lowering their broad, hairy heads, and snorting and puffing, they hauled the timber up to the clearing. Peeler declared that McTavish had been "feedin' up for this tug-o-war for a month, and Big Mac could not deny that he had been starvin' the poor oxen for weeks just so's they wouldn't beat the other spans too bad."

Oh, they were a happy crowd, these young boys and old boys; happy in the hauling up, the mortising of the timber, and the laying "true" of the first logs for the building. They one and all forgot, for the time being, that new apprehension which had crept among them and stayed, and worked them up to disquietude. The bush-world was theirs still, and it was a very beautiful world with its autumn scents and sounds and colors.

High above, through the tree-tops, was the yellow-gold of the sky; on the tree-tops of old oaks and firs, on the forest aisles an amber-gold commingled with the green moss that glowed through the yellow leaf-carpet.

By noon the mortised logs had been gathered into a great pile, ready to be thrown up into a roomy building, and the men went in to dinner. Dinner was usually a hurried meal, supper being the main "feedin' event," as Paisley termed it.

There were twenty-three men at the loggin': Jim Peeler with his two sons, almost men grown; Big McTavish with his "body guard," as the six Indians present from Point Aux Pins were called; Alex. Lapiet, a French trapper from Indian Creek, and his two swarthy sons; Injun Noah; four men from Bridgetown; Boy McTavish; and the Broadbrook family. The Broadbrooks were not popular. In fact, they were not liked any too well by their honest bush-neighbors. They bore evil reputations, and they were a sullen, ill-conditioned lot. But on account of their size, and from the fact that peace amounted to something, they were always invited to an affair of this kind. Broadbrook senior, was a tall, lean, white-haired old man, with hawk-like eyes and hatchet face. He was surly and quarrelsome, and he never attempted to do anything much save scold at the efforts of others. Three of his strapping sons were present with him, and the old man jeeringly assured Declute that Amos, the fourth and worst of the gang, would be "along in time fer supper."

"It's to be hoped he won't strain hisself none gittin' here," returned that gentleman; "howsomever, he'll be welcome."

The captains having chosen their men, the work was given, and the boys attacked the pile of logs with cut-hook and hand-saw. "He-he-he!" roared the captains, and in an incredibly short space of time the cow-stable began to grow and take on the shape of a building. By three o'clock in the afternoon the four sides of the building were nearly laid, and now began the finish for first laurels. The side that was first able to lay its upper plates and rafters would win the day. Men ran nimbly along the slippery logs shouting orders and handling long, slender pipe-poles below.

"Now, hds, up with her, all together. He-he-he!" rang the cry, and the boys responded with a will. It was a close race, and excitement ran high.

All the ladies of Bushwhackers' Place had gathered outside to witness

Remove the Cause

Follow This Advice and Your Breath Will Soon be Sweet and Pure.

The bad part of Bad Breath is the fact that nearly every case shows considerable trouble from indigestion, belching gas, bloating, piles or some form of stomach misery. Offender than not a pimply face, a sluggish, constipated condition is the true cause of many a man's failure in life.

By aiding digestion and building up the weak muscles of the stomach and bowels, DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS completely overcome constipation and all forms of stomach illness.

"I was terribly run down with stomach trouble that arose through neglected constipation," writes Mrs. P. D. Quigley, from Was'burn, P.O. "I simply couldn't half digest my food. I had dreadful headach's, piles and yellow muddy skin. The effect of DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS was phenomenal. I have gained in weight, have a clear skin, no more headaches, I eat well, sleep well and enjoy my meals."

the finish. Mrs. Declute had her hands full admonishing the little Declutes to keep from under the great plates that were being raised. Mrs. Ross and several other women kept clapping their hands and cheering the workers on.

Gloss McTavish and Mary Ann Ross stood some distance apart from the older women, and more than one of those sweating, striving workers threw a glance in the direction of the two girls.

"Our side is goin' to win, after all," laughed Gloss, clapping her hands. "Oh, look, Mary Ann, do look at Boy running along that slippery plate. It makes me shudder."

"And look at Bill Paisley liftin' that heavy log," returned her friend. "My, but he must be strong, Gloss!"

"You young ladies are taking a personal interest in the raising, I see," Simpson, the teacher, had come up in time to hear the remarks of the girls, and his face, in spite of the smile it wore, showed anything but pleasure.

"I let my pupils go at three o'clock," explained the man. "I wanted to see what a Bushwhackers' bee was like."

"Better look more and talk less then," counseled Mary Ann, turning her back on him. She moved slowly away, and Simpson spoke in low tones to Gloss.

"Did you think I would come?" His voice was not quite steady and he swayed slightly as he spoke. "A look of abhorrence swept across the girl's face and her big gray eyes were amiable as she answered:

"I wasn't givin' any thought to you at all, Mr. Simpson."

"But you will," he almost threatened; "you must, Gloss. Do you suppose I would come here among these—these people, if it weren't just to catch a glimpse of you?"

"Please go away," she pleaded.

"No, I'm going to stay by you."

"Then I will go."

Growing Demand For Pure Seed

Superiority of Northern Grown Seeds Is Now Well Established.

Alberta offers splendid opportunities for pure seed production on a large commercial scale, says Professor G. H. Outler, provincial director of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. Northern grown seeds are known to possess a peculiar superiority over southern grown seeds, and in this respect Alberta is no exception. Wheat, oats, barley, peas, flax, rye, alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, Timothy broom grass, western rye grass seed, and seed of many kinds of vegetables can be grown in one part or another of the province in profitable quantities and of exceptional quality.

Production of registered seed grain has already made a considerable progress. Last spring seven seed centres for the multiplication and distribution of pure seed were established in the province. Applications have been received by the director from several groups of farmers desiring to form such seed centres, and it is estimated that at the present rate of going, by next fall there will be between 75,000 and 100,000 bushels of pure seed in Alberta.

Nearly all the provinces of the Dominion and the States in the Union have given some attention to organization of seed growers. During the past three years the Department of Field Husbandry, University of Alberta, have been putting forth every effort to standardize and purify old varieties and breed up new ones of the different farm crops, and during that time there has not only been a steady demand for pure seed representing suitable varieties, but information as to how registered seed can be obtained and produced. In answer to these applications for seed, the department in nearly every case have forwarded samples.

From the Diary of A Hudson's Bay Clerk in the Seventies

By O-GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

We had the district accounts at the Pas that winter and if ever an H. B. clerk was sick of book-keeping I was the man. My Chief (dear A.M.) was a splendid fellow, but disliked all hardship and exposure, while this to me was meat and drink. By dint of much coaxing I had the remnants of what train dogs were left after six trains (four dogs to a train) had been picked by the native drivers—a wretched outfit. They would stop when I jumped on the toboggan, but by dint of good feeding and much running they were by no means the worst team in the spring. Corriece was the foregoer, and I secured him in trade from Bates for a fat, lazy husky, and wondered at my own luck and also why he was found enough to trade even. I soon found out; for on a trip to the Mountain there was a long muskig traverse and just one decent spot to boil the kettle. On reaching this spot with an appetite sharper than a wolf, I sung out, "Whoop, Corriece!" He turned his head, gave me a cunning look, then bolted like a jack rabbit, and it was at least two hours before I got near the sleigh again, with feelings too deep for words.

I realized then why Bates traded even (as this it appears was his usual game), but it was not until the following winter that I got even with Corriece, when, with man against dog, I ran him down between Cunibund House and Fort La Corne, and that seemed to take the heart out of him. But I am a long way off from those plagued district accounts. It is always the way in the north; start any subject you like and it will always end in Dog and yet again Dog. I have heard Donald A. Smith when he was Governor of the Company, with other high officials at the Fort Garry mess, when the desert was put on the table and the wine glasses filled, all vying with one another as to the merits of their particular dog trains, and I think one must hand it to Donald A. for the best years. Perhaps that is why he was made top-dog.

We had several outposts from The Pas that winter and when the accounts got too much for me, A.M. would suggest that an inspection should be made and the native trader checked up. It was a good winter for fur and I thoroughly enjoyed the trips here and there. There was but one fault, and that was that they were too short. However, before spring, I had a ten-day tramp and that eased the tension for a while.

Along about the end of February we found there was I likely to be a great shortage of ammunition in the spring, especially if the rat hunt was big, and all signs pointed that way. The nearest point to a further supply was Grand Rapids Post at the mouth of the Saskatchewan River, something over 150 miles away by trail. The snow was deep and no trail broken through, but it was that or nothing. So A.M. decided to send six dog teams, and I volunteered to lead the party. We started out early one day heavily loaded with dog-fish, as we had to catch on the trip down, there being no supply at The Rapids. It took us four days to reach the post, when we spelled a day, then loaded our sleds with 400 lbs. each, consisting of dog food, provisions and hiding on top of that, and started for home.

It had snowed I think every day since we left The Pas. The weather was awfully cold and windy, with no sign of the trail we had broken coming down. Cedar Lake was the only decent bit of going on the whole trip, but the river was over waist deep in heavy snow, and every driver had to use a pushing stick and work equally hard with his dogs. We had a spare man to break track ahead, but I soon found all must take turns, as one hour or less in front of the dogs was enough for any of us and, then you would be wet to the skin with the heavy exertion.

Five nights had passed on our homeward journey and our rations were about done, both for men and dogs. There were still some thirty miles to go yet and the men were getting out of hand and mutinous. My own feet were cut to pieces with the snowshoe lines, but I did not dare show any feeling in the matter, for at the least sign of weakening on my part the loads would have been chucked on the ice. There is only one cure that I know of for sore feet snowshoeing, and that is to treat them like your hands, keep away from the fire and at every stop take off your moccasins and duffles, then wade in the snow till your feet get numb.

Watch Sale of Narcotics

Severe Penalties Provided For Practitioners Who Evade Law.

Ottawa.—All physicians, dentists, veterinary surgeons and retail druggists who obtain supplies of narcotics in any quantity to administer directly to their patients or in connection with practise are considered to be engaged in the distribution of these drugs, and under the amendments made to the act governing drugs at the last session, it is necessary for such practitioners to make returns to the department of health. Forms have been sent out by the department to all engaged in these professions, and heavy penalties are provided under the act for those neglecting or refusing to furnish the declaration in question.

The penalties which, it is stated will be strictly enforced by the department are a fine of not less than $200 and costs and not more than $1,000 and cost or one year's imprisonment or both fine and imprisonment.

Wrangel's Troops Fought Well

Praise Heroism During Days of the Crimean Disaster.

Constantinople.—Allied officers here praise the heroism of Gen. Wrangel's troops during the days of the Crimean disaster. The cavalry divisions of sub-Generals Markoff, Barbovitch and Skalon suffered terrific losses in defending Percepok, which it is believed would have held out if Wrangel's forces were not outflanked on the frozen putrid sea.

The Niemetski regiment was virtually wiped out, there being only five survivors.

B.C. Salmon Pack.

Vancouver, B.C.—According to a statement prepared by the British Columbia Salmon Cannery Association the total pack for 1920 is 1,177,045 cases. Prevailing market prices would give this season's pack a selling value of $13,207,719. Last year's pack amounted to 1,393,556 cases.

Consider That Veterans Are Absorbed Into Civil Life

No Special Provision Will Be Made For Finding Work For Returned Soldier.

Winnipeg.—A special despatch to the Free Press from its Ottawa correspondent reads: "Whatever Federal methods are devised during the coming winter months to cope with the unemployment situation, which threatens to be acute in the urban centres, they will be adopted without particular regard for the returned soldier. Apart from the care of seriously disabled men, which will be continued under the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment for some time yet, the returned soldier in future will have to fend for himself, and is looked upon as having been absorbed into the civilian life."

Any means which are devised by the federal authorities to deal with the unemployment situation will have regard for the unemployed as a whole and without distinction. The assistance provided to help unemployed returned men over last winter expired in March last (for single men) and

April (for married men). Under the provisions of the appropriations only about $10,000,000 were disbursed, employment having been found for the majority of needy cases within a brief period of the receipt of first financial assistance. In fact it cannot be said that fears of abuse of the assistance were realized.

There is now no parliamentary provision for a continuation of the assistance during the coming winter and the machinery for doing so has been pretty well scrapped. During the past summer, it is stated, there were few cases of unemployment among returned men.

Unemployment is now largely a provincial matter. The federal authorities, however, undertake to pay half the cost of the upkeep of the provincial labor bureau, while the labor department assists in the compilation of statistics showing at what points and in what particular industry labor is required.

Urge Government Economy.

London.—The House of Lords has adopted a motion pressing the Government immediately to reduce the huge staffs in its departments.

Potatoes At Cost.

Hamilton, Ont.—Two carloads of potatoes will be bought by the Board of Control of this city and sold at cost to the citizens as an experiment.

Veterans To Discuss Bonus.

Toronto.—Co-operation among the different soldier organizations on the bonus question appears probable. The Grand Army of United Veterans directors will meet. As a result of their deliberations a referendum vote of the entire membership of the association may be taken upon the dollar a day bonus re-establishment scheme favored by the G.W.V.A.

Cyclone In Sicily.

Rome.—Sicily was visited by a cyclone causing eleven deaths in the town of Misilmeri and destroying a number of houses in Bagheria and other places, according to a Palermo dispatch to the Stefania agency. The message adds Palermo was flooded, causing the stoppage of the electric and water supplies.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Vatemann, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago, I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I had tried many different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The J. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Deience Problems

Imperial Matters Will Be Discussed At Forthcoming Meeting of Prime Ministers.

London.—Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law explained in the House of Commons the meeting of prime ministers of the empire summoned for June next. It will be a meeting along the lines of the Imperial war cabinet meetings which took place in 1917-18. Mr. Bonar Law added that there is a general agreement on imperial defense matters which will require joint examination in the near future. "But I am not yet able to say precisely what arrangements will be made for their discussion."

Soviet Government For Crimea.

London.—A Moscow Communiqué received here by wire as announces that re-organization of government in the Crimea already has been begun by the Bolsheviks.

"Our troops occupied Sebastopol on Nov. 14," says the statement. "Revolutionary committees are being formed at Sebastopol and Yalta, and order is being restored. We are registering tens of thousands of Gen. Wrangel's former soldiers, who abandoned their general."

Critical Situation In India.

London.—In the House of Commons, Hon. Edward Samuel Montagu, secretary of state for India, admitted that a dangerous situation existed in that country and said that the Government there would be left perfectly free to take whatever steps it deemed necessary in dealing with it.
